

Towne's Harvest Garden

Your support allows Montana State University's student-learning, organic vegetable farm to run. Thank you!

This Week's Bounty

Red Onions

Hubbard Winter Squash

Blue Potatoes

Beets

Chard

Parsley

Recipe Ideas

Mashed blue garlic potatoes

Beet borscht soup

Balsamic sautéed chard

Squash curry soup

The Countdown

Even though we are still reaching temperatures in the 80's, fall has officially arrived. Leaves are beginning to change colors and fill our landscapes with a diversity of textures and tones. It won't last long, so enjoy Montana's seasons while they present themselves, including this last stretch of summertime sun!

On farm, crops are continuing to be brought in to our barn to store for the next several weeks. Our garlic has been separated from bulbs and will be planted shortly, to produce larger garlic bulbs than if they were planted in the spring.

The last rotation of dietetic interns began this week, which has been nice to have new and excited individuals helping us through the last push of the season. We will have two more CSA distributions after this week, and we hope you enjoy them!

Best,
Kara and the THG crew

